Talking about their vision of establishing the brand, founder Dinesh Upadhyaya said, "The fact is undeniable that the best conversations happen over tea. From brainstorming sessions to the inception of new ideas, tea lets you dive deep into creativity and bring the best out. Therefore, we at Baithack believe in offering young individuals an environment where they can learn and grow simultaneously. Since the youth is the biggest contributor in India's future, we hope our efforts to be a small part of boosting the way to the development of India as a whole."

Adding on to these thoughts, founder Shivlesh Mishra said, "We believe in providing opportunities of growth to anyone worthy of seeking them. At Baithack, we are committed to making the entrepreneurs of the future and we thereby are assisting them in all the ways that we can."

Baithack is on a mission to reinvent the good old tradition of the 'kulhad chai' for all. Considering the demand for 'chai' in the Indian market, Baithack is stringent on growing its business across as many cities and states as it can. With an eccentric business model, they are bound to give budding minds the perfect opportunity of learning all the while providing their customers a happy and homely experience of dining.
